

SOCIAL LIFE IN AND ABOUT PHILADELPHIA

MISS ROBERTA B. DOWNING

Miss Downing, who is the daughter of Mrs. Robert W. Downing, will be introduced at a dansant, on November 24 at her home, 1624 Locust street.

MRS. CLARENCE CLARK ZANTZINGER, of Seminole avenue, Chestnut Hill, has inaugurated a sewing class to work for the Red Cross, which will meet every Friday morning at her home. Some among those who will attend will be Mrs. John A. Harris, Jr., Mrs. Evan Randolph, Mrs. Joseph R. Carpenter, Jr., Mrs. John Story Jenks, Mrs. John Wallingford Murr, Mrs. Joseph W. Wear, Mrs. Wain Morgan Churchman, Mrs. Joseph Hill Clark, Mrs. William Waterman, Mrs. Albert A. Jackson and Mrs. Joseph Price Tunick.

Mr. and Mrs. James Mauran Rhodes, of 111 Glenn road, Ardmore, have rented their house and will spend the winter in town at the Blenheim, 15th and Chestnut streets, where they will move this Friday. On Thursday Mrs. Rhodes will have a meeting of the Garden Club, of which Mrs. C. Stuart Patterson is president, at her home. Mrs. Rhodes will read a paper on "How to Plant for the Succession of Blooms in a Hardy Garden."

Mr. and Mrs. Percival Roberts, of Penhurst, Narberth, have issued invitations for a large at home to be given at their wonderful country place the afternoon of next Sunday, October 25. Penhurst is decidedly one of the most beautiful places on the Main Line. Its rose garden alone is a marvel of beauty. The whole effect is English, house, grounds and garden, and no pains have been spared by the owners to carry out the English tone of the manse. Every year now, either in spring or fall, Mr. and Mrs. Roberts have given these delightful garden parties, so they have become foremost among the season's entertainments.

Mr. and Mrs. George Dallas Dixon are spending a few days in White Sulphur Springs, W. Va.

Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell Harrison have sent out announcements of the marriage of their daughter, Miss Virginia Norris Harrison, and Albert Lawrence Smith, which took place October 11 in old St. David's Church.

At the marriage of Miss Elizabeth Hazard Graf and Charles Rutter Norris, which will take place at the Aldine Hotel, November 5, at 7 o'clock, Mrs. Grace Bliss Stewart will be matron of honor and Miss Grace Battles maid of honor. The bridesmaids will be Miss E. Irene Schaef and Miss Mary H. Freeland. The color scheme of the wedding will be yellow and white.

The marriage of Miss Mary Ursula Dempsey, daughter of M. A. Dempsey, of 441 Baltimore avenue, and Basil Harris, son of Mr. and Mrs. William R. Harris, of Irvington-on-the-Hudson, will take place this afternoon at 4:30 o'clock at the home of the bride. The wedding will be very quiet; only the immediate families will be present, owing to a recent death in the family of the bride. The ceremony will be performed by the Rev. Michael J. Crane, rector of St. Francis de Sales Church. After a wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Harris will live at St. Martin's, where they have taken a house.

The Equal Franchise Society of Philadelphia has issued invitations to members and friends for a reception on Wednesday afternoon, October 21, at the headquarters, 35 South 9th street, from 3 until 5 o'clock.

The Sons of Delaware will hold their annual banquet and reception to the Governor of Delaware and his staff at the Rittenhouse, Tuesday, October 27.

The Monday evening dansants at the Rittenhouse, which were so popular last season, will be resumed tonight, continuing through the season. The tea room, in connection with the ballroom, has been most beautifully arranged for these occasions and many prominent persons have made reservations for the first night.

DEBUTANTE AFFAIRS

Miss Lucia A. Warden Guest at Luncheon—Miss Wurts Introduced.

There will be four events in the debutante world today. Starting with a luncheon, the small buds will be extremely busy as there will be also a tea, a dinner and all of a dinner-dance. Mrs. Edgar Pardee Earle will give the luncheon at her home in Chestnut Hill in honor of Miss Lucia A. Warden. The guests will be seated at small tables, and the decoration will be in keeping with the autumn and Halloween.

In the afternoon Mrs. John Wister will give a large tea to introduce her granddaughter, Miss Mary Stuart Wurts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stewart Wurts. Miss Wurts has but lately returned from Europe and found a warm welcome here from all her friends, for she is quite one of the most popular of the younger set.

A large number of the debutantes will receive with her. The old country place, Bedford, where Mrs. Wister lives, is quite the ideal place for an affair of the kind.

The wide porches and shaded lawns lend greatly to the beauty of the house and grounds. Miss Wurts will wear a lovely frock which is a combination of chiffon and tulle.

Mrs. Wister will have her three daughters, Mrs. Charles Stewart Wurts, Mrs. James Starr and Mrs. Edward B. Meigs receive with her, and also Mrs. Charles Fenrose Keith, Mrs. William Lyttleton Barclay, Mrs. William Redwood Wright and Mrs. George Mason Chickster.

Mr. and Mrs. George Stephen Page will give a dinner at their country place, Shipley Farm, Seaside, in honor of Miss Mary Frances Fisher and Miss Charlotte Rusch, two extremely popular buds.

The evening will be devoted to a dinner-dance, which will be given for Miss Inez Drayton by her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Bell at the Merion Golf Club. Miss Drayton is the daughter of Mrs. J. R. Evans Roberts by a former marriage with W. Haywood Drayton. She is a niece of Mrs. Morris Lewis, Miss Sarah Drayton and Miss Harriet Drayton, and her uncles are Henry Edward Drayton, Robert Coleman Drayton and Percy Drayton, all of this city.

FLASHES FROM "STARS"

The following characteristic comment from G. Bernard Shaw was received last week by George C. Tyler, who is managing Mrs. Patrick Campbell in Shaw's "Pygmalion," at the Park Theatre, New York:

"I got your cablegram asking me to come to New York for the opening night; but it would not be fair to the press-American press. For 20 years past they have always filled up any spare room in their columns by announcing that I was on my way to America, and thereby kept the United States under a strain of expectation which they have got used to. If I were to disappoint everybody by actually coming at last I should create a good deal of ill feeling; besides, nobody would go to the theatre—they would all come to see me."

Rose Stahl will appear in the new play, "A Perfect Lady," written for her by Channing Pollock and Renold Wolf, at the Hudson Theatre, New York, next Thursday evening. While Messrs. Pollock and Wolf have collaborated before on many musical plays, this will be the first occasion on which they have jointly produced a drama.

The Shuberts will shortly produce "The Million-Dollar Theatre."
